60 STORM VICTIMS WASHED ASHORE

JUNE 26 IS SET AS DEADLINE ON MEMORIAL PLAN

Architects' Plans Will Be Called In Soon By Commissioners.

SITE IS CONDEMNED

Officials Start Active Plans for Building Memorial Convention Hall.

Property on South Townsend avenue immediately south of the Sutherland Lumber yard, will be condemned by the city and purchased as a site for the $110,000 memorial convention hall, bonds for which were voted last Tuesday.

Several legal steps, to exclude homestead rights of heirs, and steps to avoid other legal complications, will be taken immediately, the matter being placed in the hands of City Attorney Lowery Harrell. Appraisal of the property will follow legal steps and outright purchase will be effected as soon as possible. It was said by finance commissioner Charley Deavers.

Commissioners also announced today that architects over the state who expect to submit plans for the building should begin preparing them at once, as June 26 is the last day plans will be accepted. It was intimated that at the regular meeting of city commissioners on June 27, the matter of accepting a plan for the building would be settled.

As soon as plans are accepted and the site purchased, city commissioners will then advertise for bids from contractors. This should not take more than a few weeks, it is believed, and the general opinion was that before the end of the year the hall will be completed.

The size of the property to be purchased, together with the size of the building, will leave plenty of room for a lawn and walks around the building, it was pointed out. Civic clubs that are to be given headquarters in the building will be expected to plant flowers, shrubbery and otherwise make the grounds a beauty spot, it was said.

CANADA TO SEND STRIKE FINANCE

Railway Unions Seeking To Avert Penalty in Case of Walkout.

CHICAGO, June 12.—While additional wage cuts threatened to slash $10,000,000 from the payroll of the carriers, it was rumored today that any railroad strike growing out of the present threats may be directed and financed from Canada, to evade the decision of the United States Supreme court, holding unions liable for damage caused by their members.

Leaders of the railroad unions said to be contemplating the movement, viewed the establishment of Canadian headquarters as legitimate because the unions are international organizations. Financial penalties in case of a walkout could thus be averted, it was said.

The expected new wage reduction order will increase the total cut of railroad workers wages to approximately $150,000,000 a year. Clerks, signal men, stationary firemen, oilers and marine department employees will join the shopmen and maintenance of way employees as victims of the slash.

Jewel Denies Report
CINCINNATI, June 12.—B. M. Jewell, head of the railroad employees department of the American Federation of Labor, denied emphatically today that the railroad shop unions have under consideration a plan to move their headquarters from Chicago to Canada to escape any suit brought against them under the Coronado decision recently handed down by the United States Supreme Court.

Prize Family Has 160 Descendants; Grandsire Now 81

ARDMORE, OKLA., June 12.—"Uncle George" Kimbrough and his wife of Hoxbar, near here, claim to have the largest family in the state. "Uncle George" is 81 years old and his wife says she is "just a little younger."

Mr. Kimbrough says his immediate family tree consists of ten children, 83 grandchildren and 67 great grandchildren. Eight of his boys enlisted in the army during the world war and all of them came marching home, although one was gassed slightly and another suffered a slight wound.

Mr. and Mrs. Kimbrough live with relatives at Hoxbar.

ACQUITTED MAN AGAIN ACCUSED

Kansas City Girl Points Out
Chester As Slayer of Miss Barton.

(By the Associated Press)
KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 12.—Following a sworn statement that she was with Denzel Chester on the night Miss Florence Barton, local society girl was slain, in October 1920, and saw him fire the shot that killed the girl, Mrs. Bessie Curtis, 23, was held today by the Kansas City, Kan., police. Chester was acquitted of the murder of Miss Barton in May, 1921.

Miss Barton was killed while riding in a motor car on a road near here with her fiancé, Howard Winter. Robbery is supposed to have been the motive.

The statement was made by Henry T. Zimmer, chief of police, of Kansas City, Kan., who said he did not know how much credence to place in it. Mrs. Curtis was arrested yesterday following comments she is said to have made on the death of Fred Roberts, pal and associate of Chester, who was slain early Saturday morning by the police here, when he was discovered robbing a store.

Hide Behind Woman
Charles Edwards, chief of police here, said it was possible the slayer of Miss Barton might have had a woman companion with him, as it was a favorite underworld device to drive with them in order to avert police suspicion.

In the statement Chief Zimmer says Mrs. Curtis made, she declares that she had known Chester for eight years, and that three years ago she was engaged to marry him. She was driving with Chester, the statement declares, the night Miss Barton was killed, and there were two other women and one other man in the car. All were named in a statement. After following for some distance the coupe in which Miss Barton and Winter were driving, the affidavit asserts, Chester told his companions to stop and went to the winter car, which had also stopped.

Mrs. Curtis declared she saw Chester fire and that he returned and said he had shot a woman, intimating it was an accident.

NEW CABINET OF JAPAN WILL USE RIGID ECONOMY

TOKIO, June 12.—The cabinet of former Premier Takahashi, which failed because of opposition to the liberal idea, has been succeeded by one whose announced watchword is economy, and which a story of the vernacular press declares, has a taint of reactionism.

These comments, directed so far at the new premier, Admiral Kato, who took office today, are reinforced by others leveled at his policy of the non-party government, which affects all members.

Most of the members of his cabinet saw service in other cabinets or other government divisions. Three are retained from the Takahashi ministry.

The new ministry takes office assured of the support of the Seiyukai majority party in the country and this fact strengthens the claim of the cabinet to the support of the upper chamber of the government.

Legion Men To Meet

An important meeting of Norman Howard post of the American Legion will be held at the Legion hall tomorrow night at 8 o'clock. Gilbert F. Polly, post commander, announced this afternoon. He stressed the importance of all legion men being present.

U. S. Grand Jury to Spend summer Probing War Graft

Front row, left to right: Jacob Zarin, N. D. Lerner, Chris J. Gockler (assistant foreman), George Topham (foreman), E. C. Davis (secretary), Mark Sloan (clerk), Arthur D. Farr. Second row, left to right: L. Kulle, Philip F. Happ, John D. Ford, F. A. Newman, John J. Schwartz, Robert N. Jackson, John P. Sullivan. Third row: Thomas Corcoran, J. B. Gorman, D. B. Fegan, B. A. O'Leary, John J. Dickerson, Thomas J. Neacey, H. B. Fields (deputy marshal).

Attorney General Daugherty has promised to keep the special U. S. grand jury in Washington working all summer investigating war grafts. The body already is in session. Specially appointed United States attorneys are laying before the grand jurors the government's evidence against the alleged grafters. Daugherty is supervising the probe.

Local Man State's Oldest?

C. W. Ellis, 118, Remembers Shaving "Abe" Lincoln and Grant During War Between States.

Charles Wesley Ellis, 118, who lives five miles north of Ada, believes he is Oklahoma's patriarch.

Ellis was born in Alaska in 1803 and remembers distinctly, as a boy of 12, Jackson's famous New Orleans engagement with the British in 1815. He has seen or had personal knowledge of every war in which the United States has engaged except the Revolutionary war, and has been in almost every state of the Union. Nothing troubles him now except rheumatism and the hot sun, he asserts.

Sitting beneath the friendly shade of an oak tree in front of the home of Ed Ellis, his only living child, the aged man spread out the story of more than a century to a reporter Sunday afternoon.

"Too old to talk about," he always answers with a merry laugh when one asks about his age. "Too old to talk about—but young enough to remember a heap."

Stolen From Home.

When Ellis was but a small lad he was stolen from his parents in extreme northwestern Canada. It was then he learned of the great American Commonwealth and began a career of travel and adventure which brought him into personal contact with the great panorama of American history which schoolboys of today read about as glorious myths of a by-gone age.

Ellis has lived under every president since Thomas Jefferson and has known some of them intimately. He shaved Abraham Lincoln during the darkest days of the Civil War and once matched his skill as a woodchopper with the Great Emancipator. The Pontotoc county centenarian has been blind and practically an invalid for 40 years but has perfect hearing. He can quote Bible passages or joke with the best of jesters.

Of things that happened before the Civil War, Ellis speaks but rarely. "They're too long gone," he explains.

Big Industries Take Note of Increasing Public Criticism

(By Central Press)

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 12.—Is favorable public opinion necessary to the success of a great industry? How valuable an asset is public opinion?

Three of the mightiest combinations in the United States have answered these questions and answered them emphatically.

First came the baseball magnates. When the greatest national pastime, in which they had invested millions, was struggling in the throes of scandal arising from the Chicago-Cincinnati world's series, they forgot petty differences and made Kenesaw Mountain Landis the supreme arbiter of the game.

Landis has since done much to eradicate the suspicion which clouded the game in the minds of the fans. Then the movie producers followed. They picked Will H. Hays, postmaster general of these United States, to occupy a similar position in the movie world with the hope that he could raise the industry from the depths into which it had been plunged by unscrupulous producers and indiscreet stars.

Now the builders of the nation, through their organizations have selected Franklin D. Roosevelt, former assistant secretary of the navy, to take charge of their affairs.

With labor troubles looming and other difficulties confronting them the builders placed their hope in Roosevelt.

Roosevelt will begin his active duties when the American construction council is formed here late this month.

Something different from the "public be damned" attitude of the past.

TIDE ADDS MANY TO LIST KILLED IN BRIEF STORM

18 More Bodies Picked Up
As Waters Recede at Early Hour Today.

RELATIVES STRICKEN

Friends of Missing Folk
Watch Seashore With Straining Eyes.

(By the Associated Press)

NEW YORK, June 12.—The death toll of the brief but terrific hurricane that swooped down on the metropolis late yesterday passed the sixty mark today with indications that the total number of dead might reach much higher.

The death list leaped ahead again when an incoming tide returned 18 more bodies that had been swept out to sea last night. Four more bodies were recovered at Hunter's Island and two were reported to have been picked up near Travers Island.

Coney Island—haven for Sunday pleasure seekers and amateur fishermen—was the hardest hit point in the metropolis area, but casualties, mostly by drowning, were reported from many other points.

Beaches at Coney Island today presented a desolate spectacle. Several hundred persons, relatives of the missing—worn and drawn by hysteria—waited in little groups among the wreckage on the sands for some word of the fate of the loved ones.

Marine squad police, exhausted by their all night's vigil, continued their cruising, keeping a sharp lookout for additional bodies.

Early List Small.

NEW YORK, June 12.—Police boats which spent the night searching the waters of Long Island Sound off City Island reported at 5 o'clock this morning that no more victims of yesterday's terrific storm had been found. They said, however, the tide had probably carried away the bodies not recovered. The list of the dead stood at that hour at more than 40. In the whole metropolis 57 persons were known to have met death in the storm. Damage running above a million dollars was done, and more than 100 persons suffered injuries.

ONE GIANT UNION IS AIM OF LABOR

Open Shop and Wage Cuts
To Be Other Subjects
Talked in Meet.

(By the Associated Press)

CINCINNATI, June 12.—"Open shop", unemployment, wage reductions, recognition of soviet Russia, one big union, court decisions and injunctions affecting labor with other subjects, formed the major issues that confronted the American Federation of Labor when it opened its two weeks' convention here today. The report of the federation executive council on many of these issues was ready for presentation to the delegates.

No debate was on the program for the opening session, because of the preliminary routine and introductory resolutions. Delegates here for the opening session were estimated to number 500. Samuel Gompers, federation president, described it as the "parliament of labor."

"Our consideration of industry and industrial problems," said a formal statement made by Mr. Gompers, forecasting the convention work, "will be from the point of view of service to the masses of our people. Our consideration of the political problems will be from the point of view of freedom and protection for humanity."

The big national guard armory is the seat of the convention. Delegates formed in the parade downtown and marched in a body for the opening session at 10 o'clock and a band of 100 pieces played the accompaniment for the delegates singing America as the first item on the program.

BIBLE THOUGHT OF TODAY

MORE THAN CONQUERORS:—All things work together for good to them that love God. If God be for us, who can be against us? Who shall separate us from the love of Christ? shall tribulation, or distress, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or sword? Nay, in all these things we are more than conquerors through him that loved us.—Ro. 8:28-37.

PICKING THE BEST MAN

Do people want the best man? asks an exchange concerning a list of candidates. Sure they want the best man but the trouble is that every fellow has his own peculiar idea of what a good man is. The pie hunter considers the fellow who will cut the pie into the biggest slices the best man. The crook has the same opinion of the men he can "fix." The man who wants something special at the expense of the public has his man in the field. The honest element is always so badly divided and so easily hoodwinked by the honeyed words of some smooth tongued crook that the best qualified man is at a disadvantage. Too often nothing but personal prejudice sways the judgment of men whose intentions are thoroughly honest. Some fancied slight, some rumor or wrong impression causes him to leave the company of the best man and follow the incompetent or crook.

WHY FARM PRICES FELL

Henry Ford's paper, the Dearborn Independent, has a very simple explanation for the deflation in value of farm products. It says that when in 1920 the Federal banks called in about three billions dollars of currency that had been in circulation, it cut the circulating medium half in two and it was impossible to handle the business of the country which included moving of the crops on the amount left. Naturally everything took a tumble and farm products in particular fell to the point where the farmers were bankrupt. The Independent figures that if there had been sufficient money in circulation to handle the crops there would have been no such catastrophe as we have witnessed. From this it argues that the government, and not the banks, should have sole power to regulate the volume of currency so that it may go up or down according to the actual needs of the country.

If a man is suffering from a disorder, real or imaginary, it is his nature to seek sympathy and the one who extends such sympathy generally wins his confidence. This is the trait in human nature to which quacks, confidence men and crooked politicians appeal. If they can only make a fellow believe that they can cure some malady of his body or of the state they can get his money or his vote, even though no such complaint may really exist. The fellow likes to think he or the state is in need of sympathy and help and takes the word of the quack or the crook that disorders of the system are much in evidence.

According to press reports the conference of the bankers of the world held to devise ways and means of stabilizing economic conditions in Europe broke up with nothing accomplished. No loans will be made to any powers at present and J.P. Morgan is quoted as expressing his disgust over the situation in which petty politics played the principal role, the politicians and not the financiers having the final word and they refused to see that the economic situation is the vital issue now.

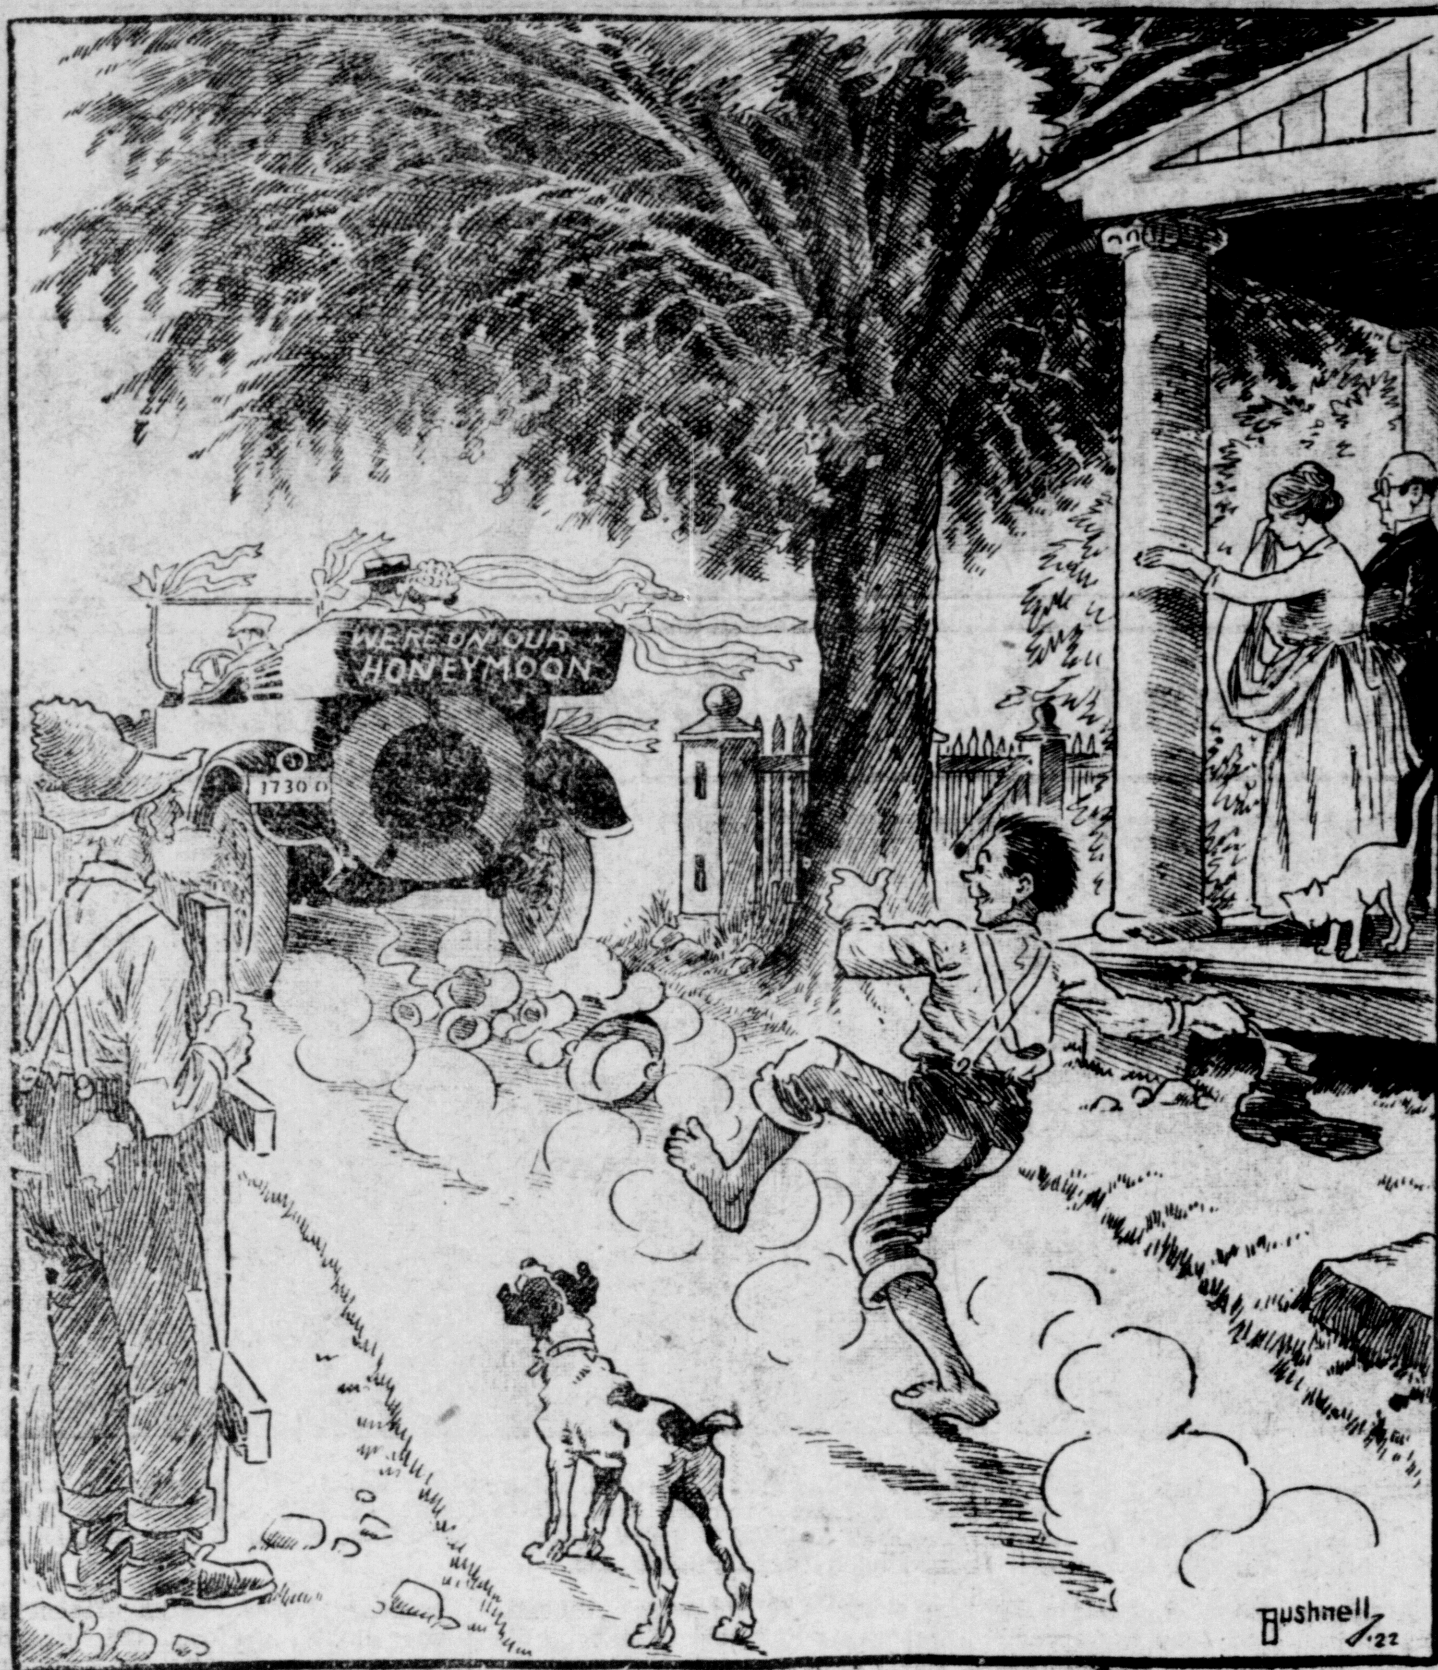

Cuba is about to get off the reservation again and it may once more become necessary for Uncle Sam to interpose a steadying hand. It is highly probable that the island will have to be taken over for keeps if the natives insist on following the example of other Spanish-American countries in the matter of appealing from ballots to bullets.

After being quiet several years W. R. Hearst is again trying to break into the political game. This time he is being boomed for the governorship of New York. If successful there, the plan is to have another go for the presidential nomination. Hearst is evidently no quitter no matter how far off the track he may be in some of his views.

It usually pays better to speak softly, even though a big stick may be kept handy, than to sail into a fellow with a club first off and endeavor to beat him into another way of thinking. It is not the American nature to be driven into anything and club methods never get very far. To change the figure, when a fellow jumps in to stamp out a fire he may scatter it and increase its intensity. Very often a fellow wielding a club recklessly knocks the head out of a barrel of gasoline and then he really does have a fire on his hands.

No one has offered an explanation of why congress has pigeonholed the matter of prosecuting alleged war grafters; Republican politicians have had much to say about graft under the Wilson regime but now they are not showing any inclination to put the grafters into stripes and on the rock pile. If there was any graft the country has a right to expect the government to land the grafters where they belong, whether they be Democrats or Republicans. A crook is a crook and should be dealt with accordingly.

LEAVING THE OLD HOME NEST

The Forum of the Press

He Trades at Home Cow (Chickasha Express)

The big bargains which you see advertised in the catalogues of the mail order houses and the goods which are so highly recommended by the itinerant salesman who solicits your trade art not always what they are cracked up to be. For example, a Chickasha man ordered some shirts from an out of town concern and we happened to call on him when he was writing a letter, acknowledging receipt of goods. He showed us the letter and it read:

"The shirts which I purchased from your salesman were all O. K. with the exception that I ordered a 14-34 and was delivered a 15; that I ordered collar attached and was delivered collar detached, plus two extra collars at 40 cents a throw that I ordered medium high collars and was delivered low ones; that your salesman promised a special kind of cuff and delivered the old reliable kind; that the order signed by your salesman says plainly balance C. O. D. $6.00, whereas, I parted with six eighty-eight get the package out of the postoffice."

"Outside of that, gentlemen, my little purchase from you was entirely satisfactory."

This letter scarcely calls for comment. The author of it is cured of a bad habit. It is better to trade with the home merchants whom you know and whom you can depend upon to give you a square deal.

President Harding and Labor

Kansas City Journal

The members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, who, in convention in Houston, Texas, adopted resolutions denouncing President Harding as "a consistent and unrelenting enemy of organized labor and of the working classes in general," may have been honest in their views. But they cannot expect their denunciation to be approved by the public, or even by the clear thinking elements in organized labor.

Resentment at wage reduction is natural, whether or not it is reasonable. But nothing in the president's course remotely justifies the vitriolic resolutions adopted by the representatives of this particular division of railroad workers.

The president has, throughout his public career, been noted for his comprehensive sympathy with the toilers of the country. Neither as senator nor as chief magistrate has he ever uttered a word or put into effect a policy which could be fairly interpreted as hostile in principle or in effect to any legitimate interests of labor, organized or otherwise.

On the contrary, he has repeatedly insisted upon justice for the working man. As an unusual clear-minded American, whose long experience has brought him into closest contact with all so-called classes of people, he has been characterized by a sense of fundamental fairness which has not here to ever been challenged. He has not always conceded the justice of all demands made by labor, but in disputing them he has always been guided by motives which have been universally recognized as soundly American, supplemented by a genuine desire to secure a maximum of legitimate advantage for the toiler, wherever and whenever it could be secured without withholding equally legitimate rights from all other elements of the people.

The Dumb Bells

Bartlesville Examiner

A "commission of experts" investigates the inmates of the Iowa reformatory, Michigan. It applies the army psychology test and placidly announces that the percentage of inmates of average mentality is greater than that of drafted men who served in the American army during the worldwar.

This probably strikes you as ridiculous. It is.

It takes a report like this Ionia "finding" to show up the bunk of the average intelligent test.

You have seen such tests. They run like this: "If black is white, place a cross here— but if a cow has three horns underscore 'horns' and they state 'yes' or 'no' whether a circle is square," etc., etc.

While the above is a burlesque on the average mentality test, it is fully as sane and sensible as the real thing.

The trouble with the mentality tests, is that they grade intellect according to mental ability and cunning.

Outside of geniuses, the highest grade of brain is slow thinking. If you have ever consulted a white-bearded philosopher, you know that the oracle hears your case, ponders it with deliberation, views it from all angles, then in a terse sentence utters the decision of wisdom.

The fast thinker arrives at wrong conclusions oftener than the slow thinker.

The fast thinker usually is a surface thinker.

A large part of humanity's time is devoted to correcting the errors of judgement on the part of the "snap judgement" boys who glanced instead of looking thoroughly, before leaping.

After all, what is intelligence? A hard question to answer, regardless of the expert who thinks that "everybody's out of step but me."

The First Baptist Has Great Day

The First Baptist church was crowded to overflowing at both hours yesterday. There were 518 in Sunday school.

At the morning hour the pastor preached on the subject, "The Tragedy of Indifference." He pointed out the great handicap of the churches today is the sluggish indifference of its members. "They can be enthusiastic in spots, business, and pleasure but are extremely conservative in matters of religion," he said. We need that Christian share be so enthusiastic in their religious zeal that critics will suspect them of being beside themselves," he declared.

At the close of the service there was one conversion; three additions by baptism; seven who came under the watch care and five by letter.

At the evening service the subject was, "Kicking One's Way to Hell." At the close of this service there were five additions by watch care; seven by letter; making a total of twenty-seven additions. There were twenty additions the Sunday before; making a total of forty-seven additions in the last two Sundays.

At the close of the service last night three fine young ladies were baptized.

COULD HARDLY RAISE HER HAND TO HER HEAD

St. Louis Woman Says She Can Now Do All Her Housework With Little Trouble Since Taking Tanlac.

"By the help of Tanlac," said Mrs. Mary Tenhribben, 3159 North 13th St., St. Louis, Mo., "I am fast getting rid of a case of rheumatism that had followed me for seven years.

"My arms and shoulders pained me so bad I could hardly raise my hands to my head. I also had backache and many a night I was too miserable to sleep at all. I was troubled with indigestion, too, and at times my burden of distress became so heavy that I would almost break down.

"What three bottles of Tanlac has done for me is astonishing. I have gained nine pounds and my rheumatism and backache are so much better that I can do all my housework, washing and ironing thrown in, and hardly feel a pain. My appetite is fine, my digestion perfect, and my sleep sound and restful every night. Tanlac is so wonderful that I cannot help praising it."

Tanlac is sold by all good drug-gists. (Adv.)

DIAL EXPLAINS WEEVIL FIGHT

Demonstrates Log Drag On Streets of Ada and Tells How To Meet Pest.

Considerable interest was manifested by farmers and business men of Ada Saturday in the demonstration and lecture of Hardy Dial on fighting the boll weevil. Mr. Dial had a drag made with a mule hitched to it, showing the onlookers how it worked. It is now on the sidewalk at the Oklahoma State Bank where it can be inspected by the public. For best results Mr. Dial recommends the use of cottonwood or other light wood. The log should be about 13 or 14 inches in diameter and long enough to reach across the middle of the cotton under cultivation. Each end of the log is sloped from about ten inches from the end down to a line drawn through the center. Another slope about half as wide is made on one edge of this. Two iron rods are run through holes bored in the log so that when a horse or mule is hitched to it the larger slope will stand vertical with the row and the smaller slope will face downward, thus fitting the log to the shape of the middle. A brush is fastened to each rod so that it will brush weevils and stung squares off in front of the drag. Another rod is run into the top of the log. It stands straight up so that it can be reached by the driver and the log moved anyway needed, especially around stumps. The traces are hitched to rings on the end of the projecting rods. A single tree cannot be used because it will not let the log drag uniformly.

Mr. Dial says that the log should be used after the second plowing of the cotton. From that time on it should be run down the middles once a week the rest of the season. No more plowing will be needed as the log will do the cultivating. In case the ground needs stirring a little more if vegetation begins to show, another drag with a row of small spikes can be used to advantage so as to stir the ground about an inch in depth.

At the court house J. A. Whitehurst, president of the state board of agriculture, introduced Mr. Dial in a brief speech. Mr. Whitehurst is not convinced that poisoning methods have been sufficiently tried out to make it safe to recommend them positively and the cost is so high that he considers poisoning rather uncertain.

Mr. Dial explained his method in full from the careful cleaning up of fields in the fall, to the preparation of the seed bed in a careful manner on down to the drag. He stated that he has followed his methods with excellent success for several years and invites every one else to do likewise. He explained the periodical coming and going of the weevils in places where they once appear by saying that he has discovered a parasite which preys on the weevil just as another parasite thins out the green bugs occasionally. He says this is a very small gnats that lays its egg on the back of the weevil where his wing joins his body. The grub that hatches burrows his way into the body of the weevil and develops there, killing the weevil as it feeds on his vitals. When the weevils become scarce the parasite dies too and does not appear in any force until the weevils become numerous again. From this he argued that even though the weevils should be had again this year that the parasite will thin them out in another year or two. He said he had observed the parasite at Enfield last fall, hence is positive it is in Oklahoma now.

Gentlemen: This is to acknowledge receipt of payment in full of policy No. 34073602 in your company on the life of my daughter, which I thought had already lapsed on account of my having dropped it, but upon inquiry of your agents, Messrs. Merritt & DeMoss of Ada, Oklahoma, and through their efforts in calling the matter to your attention it was found that although I had quit paying on the policy for four years it was still in force on account of the extension clause. I had forgotten about the policy and would never have known about it except for your agents calling it to my attention and wish to thank you for your kind attention of same.

TIMELY HOMER WITH SCORE TIED IN 9TH SAVES DAY FOR ADA

Wilson Team Goes Down in First Defeat Sunday in Thriller Here.

Wilson and Company of Oklahoma City, strongest contenders that Ada has had this year for state amateur baseball championship, tasted defeat for the first time Sunday afternoon when Paul Waner and his teammates outwitted the big cityans 2 to 1 in a thrilling nine inning battle at Fair Grounds park.

This team played Ada to a 12-inning tie at the opening of the season here. In that game Paul Waner tied the score by knocking a home run off Snodgrass. Yesterday he won the game when, as first man up for Ada in the ninth frame, he smacked a hot grounder for four sacks and broke up the season's best battle.

One of the largest crowds ever to witness a local game and the biggest for this season, turned out yesterday. Lefty had perfect support in the field and the hits from his mates were timely enough to make it possible for him to win a battle from Snodgrass. The crafty Oklahoma City twirler, who struck out 12 men on his first visit to Ada, only got four whiffs yesterday.

Seven hits, two triples and one double was the damage off Waner, while Snodgrass held the locals to six hits, all singles except the homer. Paul hit the ball squarely and sent it with terrific speed between first and second base, past the right fielder into deep right. It was the most thrilling part of the game. Ada had taken first blood in the fourth, when Vernon walked, stole second and scored on Fain's single. This one run advance was lost in the first half of the ninth, when two triples, with a walk scored one man for Oklahoma City.

Game by Plays
First Inning
WILSON—Sternberg was thrown out by P. Waner; Dyer went the same route; Shirley retired on strikes. No runs, no hits, no errors.

ADA—Harrison was thrown out by Osborne; R. Waner was thrown out by Snodgrass to Shirley; Young singled; P. Waner was safe on infield hit, advancing Young; Rutledge was thrown out by Osborne. No runs, two hits, no errors.

Second Inning
WILSON—Osgood was retired on strikes; L. Kelley was thrown out by Fain; Osborne popped out to K. Waner. No runs, no hits, no errors.

ADA—Vernon got a life on Dyer's error; Fain whiffed; Norman singled, advancing Vernon; Vernon was caught off third, and was out Shirley to Osborne; West retired the side by striking out. No runs, one hit, one error.

Third Inning
WILSON—Incho singled but was out trying to take second; McKee flew out to Young; Snodgrass singled; Sternberg fouled out to Norman retiring the side. No runs, two hits, no errors.

ADA—Harrison hit a long one to center and was caught out; R. Waner swung at three; Young was thrown out by Osborne. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Fourth Inning
WILSON—Dyer hit a high one to R. Waner; Shirley singled; Osgood whiffed; L. Kelley walked, but the side was retired when Waner lightened and struck out Osborne. No runs, one hit, no errors.

ADA—P. Waner was thrown out by Dyer; Rutledge was thrown out by Osgood; Vernon stroled, stole second and scored on Fain's single; Fain retired his side by trying to make second on the throw in to the plate. One run, one hit, no errors.

Fifth Inning

ADA—Norman was thrown out by Snodgrass; West was caught out on his long fly to left; Harrison was thrown out by Osgood. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Sixth Inning
WILSON—Dyer was thrown out by R. Waner; Shirley popped out to Young; Osgood did the same thing. No runs, no hits, no errors.

ADA—R. Waner was thrown out by Dyer; Young was out Osborne to Shirley; P. Waner took a walk; Rutledge was thrown out by Dyer, retiring the side. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Seventh Inning
WILSON—L. Kelley was thrown out by Fain; Osborne fanned; Incho laid one down, but loitered and was thrown out by Norman. No runs, one hit, no errors.

ADA—Vernon opened with a hot single; Fain sacrificed him to second; Norman hit a fly to right field but Vernon could not advance; McKee was safe on Osborne's error.

By Norman E. Brown A THREATENING PITCHING MOTION

That makes the meanest batter's step back, is one asset that is helping young Herman Pillette, the "to boot" pitcher obtained from Portland and make a name for himself with the Detroit Tigers. A semi cross-fire motion gives the ball the appearance of coming straight at a right-hand hitter.

Dispatches last spring stated that Detroit had purchased Pillette and Sylvestre Johnson, two hurlers, from the Portland club. It came out later that Johnson was major portion of the deal and that Pillette was "good measure." The Tigers gave the coast club $40,000 for the pair.

Now Pillette looms up as the find of the season for the Tigers. Three victories over the Indians in a row are numbered among his accomplishments.

Pillette is not a callow youth. He was tried out by Cincinnati in 1917 and had been playing pro ball at least a season before that. He was sent back to the coast by the Reds and pitched in the west until grabbed by the Tigers.

Last season with Portland he won 13 and lost 30 games, while striving in vain to pitch Portland out of last place. He worked something like 275 innings.

BING, BING, BING; YOU LEATHER-SOCKING HOME-RUN CLOUTING BING—

"Bing" Miller in action and repose.

Even Kenneth Williams' spectacular home-run clouting has paled alongside the phenomenal stickwork of "Bing" Miller, former Washington gardner, now the leading figure in the Athletics' mad sport. Bing recently rang up his thirteenth home run while Babe Ruth was seeking his third and Ken was collecting his fourteenth. Miller started his terrific clouting after Williams broke out.

Three Polo Teams To Represent Oklahoma At Colorado Jousts

(By the Associated Press)
LAWTON, Okla., June 17.—Polo teams from the University of Oklahoma, Fort Reno and Fort Sill will represent Oklahoma at the Colorado Springs polo tournament to be held at Colorado Springs, Colo., June 25 under the auspices of the Cheyenne Mountain country club, according to army officers at Fort Sill. Teams and ponies have been selected and the remaining days are being spent in final practice before the event, officers said.

Among some of the teams whom the Oklahoma poloists will meet are the ones from Fort Riley, Kansas; Camp Travis, Tex.; Fort Russell, Wyoming; Chicago, Denver and several Wyoming cowboy teams.

The popularity of this ancient sport, said to have been originated by the Chinese, has had widespread increase in this country during the past few years. Fort Sill officers pointed out. The game has received noteworthy encouragement from the heads of the army to improve horsemanship, and civilian teams have been organized in great numbers until polo is fast becoming one of the familiar American sports, they said.

FRENCH CHAMBER STARTS DEBATES ON ARMS TREATY

(By the Associated Press)
PARIS, June 12.—Bills ratifying the accord reached at the Washington conference are now before the committee of the chamber of deputies and probably will be reported at an early date. Pressure of other matters has delayed the bills thus far, but Premier Poincaré is anxious that they come up for consideration by the full chamber before the summer session.

The government will bring pressure to bear on the early consideration of the measures in the committee.

In official circles no obstacle to ratification of the Pacific accord is anticipated, but a reservation to the Root resolution will probably be proposed and accepted. It will be demanded that if submarines are to be prohibited from attacking merchant marines, the latter must be required to go without arms against submarines.

The band is composed of about fifteen players and uniforms for this number will be purchased as soon as funds can be obtained.

Bankruptcy Action Against Dennis Is Opened at Guthrie

Old silversmiths, in order to help people tell pure silver from cheaper imitations, marked the real thing "sterling."

In a like manner, manufacturers, who stand back of their wares, identify them with trade-marks that are your guarantee of quality. By advertising these trade-marks, they focus on their products the searchlight of attention.

Only good goods, fairly priced, can flourish in this light of publicity. For no merchandise and no business can thrive under the weight of public condemnation.

That is why a manufacturer, or a merchant, places the whole reputation of his business at stake every time he advertises. His goods must be advertised.

So, in looking through this paper remember this: the man who spends his money to invite your consideration of his wares, backs up his belief in his goods and leaves the final decision to you.

It pays you to read the advertisements. It pays you to buy advertised products.

Advertising is your protection.

4 MEN SOUGHT FOR ASSAULTS ON TWO GIRLS

ARDMORE, June 12.—Police and county officers this morning were looking for four men implicated in an alleged assault on two young girls just outside the city after church hours last night.

According to the story by the girls this morning, they were going home from church when a car drew up and asked them if they wanted to "take the air." One of the girls said she knew the men.

Riding into the country, the car was stopped and eight other men approached and made advances on the girls, they said. One of them made her getaway and hid herself in a ditch. Four of the men assaulted the other girl, she said, before she fainted.

Early this morning the girls were found by passersby and brought to Ardmore, officers said. Several men have been arrested and identified, according to officers and only four are now being sought. Officers refused to give names of any until all arrests have been made.

CALF THIEF SHOT BY TULSA FARMER

Campbell Says He Fired To Scare Stranger in Barn At Night.

TULSA, June 12.—Oscar V. Campbell, a farmer living near Tulsa, was at liberty today with no charge against him following the shooting to death by him last night of an unidentified man who he says was trying to steal a calf.

Campbell appeared in the county attorney's office today to surrender and make a statement. Following the statement County Attorney Seaver intimated that no charges would be filed.

"It seems to me," the county attorney said "that Campbell shot a thief and no jury could convict a man for that. It would be a waste of public funds to attempt to obtain a conviction."

Campbell's story was to the effect that he was awakened by a noise in his barn, that he looked out a window, saw a man leading a calf out of the barn, obtained a revolver and fired once.

"I thought I was aiming low," Campbell told the prosecutor, "and intended to hit the prowler in the legs, but the bullet struck him in the back, entering the abdomen and killing him."

The dead man is being held at a local morgue and this morning had not been identified.
